Covington, Kentucky is a beautiful and diverse city with its residential downtown and hilltop neighborhoods sitting on the Ohio River where the Licking River flows in. Covington enjoys the best views of its neighbor across the water, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Covington has an accessible and residential downtown where it's easy to walk to great restaurants and unique shopping, to experience the arts, live music and festivals, or walk across one of its bridges to enjoy events and sports in neighboring downtown Cincinnati.

Covington is home to over 40,000 residents living in the neighborhoods of Austingburg, Botany Hills, Helentown, Historic Licking Riverside, Kenton Hills, Levassor Park, Lewisburg, Mainstrasse, Monte Casino, Mutter Gottes, Peaselburg, Old Seminary Square, South Covington, Wallace Woods, West 15th Street, Westside and in Covington's Latonia; Ritte's East, Rosedale, and West Latonia.

As Covington turns 200, the city celebrates its distinctive architectural and historic gems, like the Roebling Suspension Bridge and the Cathedral Basilica of the Assumption. Covington is home to 16 National Register Historic Districts with buildings of nearly every major architectural style; including Federal, Greek Revival, Italianate, Queen Anne and Colonial Revival. And as you walk, take note of the unique modern growth that shares the city's unique edge.

Covington is alive and focused on strengthening its community by increasing its green spaces, access to both rivers, walking and riding trails. We encourage you to visit, eat, play, and simply walk around. Get to know Covington and you'll come to love it as much as we do.
